UNIQUE SERVICE HELD AT BLAINE YESTERDAY NOON

Twenty Thousand Spectators Throng Highway Leading to Peace Portal Which Was Dedicated to Commemorate Century of Peace Between the Dominion of Canada and United States.

THE ARCH IS A SYMBOL OF THE TWO NATIONS' IDEAL

Among the happier incidents painted into the sombre canvas of international history is that which took place yesterday at Blaine, the little city on the Canada-United States border, which witnessed the dedication of the great arch which commemorates the century of peace which has been maintained between the peoples represented on the two sides of the 49th parallel of latitude.

Twenty thousand people witnessed the proceedings connected with the dedication and the raising of flags over the massive monument which so simply and eloquently symbolizes the harmonious relations of the two countries, and thanks to the placing at short intervals along the routes leading thereto of magnifying "Wonderphones," each member of the vast audience was enabled to hear every word of the addresses delivered in connection with the consecration of the memorial.

Distinguished Chairman
The Hon. Samuel Hill, of Seattle, president of the Pacific Highway Association, acted as chairman, and with him on the platform which had been erected at the west side of the portal were distinguished representatives of the British and American Governments, of the legislatures of British Columbia and of the states of Washington and Oregon, as well as of various public organizations within these political divisions of the two countries. A smaller platform twenty-five feet away held the Victoria, New Westminster, Band, which, under the direction of Band Instructor Rumsby, had led the procession of four hundred Victoria visitors who arrived in the early part of the afternoon on the SS. Princess Patriot; also the Pipe Band from Vancouver. Both of these played patriotic selections in the afternoon. A large number of official and unofficial photographers, both on land and near the main platform, spent a busy afternoon recording the day's incidents serially.

The Programme
The raising over the Peace Portal of the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes formed the climax of the ceremony, which was prefaced and followed by speeches. Mr. George A. Ellsperger called the proceedings to order, and Rev. Robert E. Pretlow delivered the invocation, praying for continual remembrance by these two nations that they were children of one common Father, and that they should forever cherish peace.

The singing of the Volkslied (led by the Harter & Wells Quartette of Vancouver) was followed by the laying of the cornerstone by Mr. Samuel Hill, to whom Mr. Ellsperger paid a brief but cordial tribute as "the man who had first thought of this big thing."

"Nothing is attained by war; nothing is gained by hatred. Perfect peace alone satisfies," stated Mr. Hill in the short address which he gave. The ceremony which they were gathered to participate in was the celebration of one hundred years' peace between Canada and the United States, between Great Britain and America, the two great representatives of the white race. France and England had dwelt in harmony together in Canada; and Britain and the United States had dwelt in harmony by the side in North America, nothing but an imaginary and unfortified boundary line separating them for the past ten decades. This Peace Arch had been erected to symbolize the deeper spiritual sympathy which existed between these peoples, a sympathy which must be commended and which should endure forever.

Leadership in Peace
To the rest of the world had looked for leadership in the quest for peace, said ex-Governor West, of Oregon, in a very clever address. The interests of the two nations north and south of the boundary line were identical, and in the perpetuation of peace they would remain so.

A particularly fine address was given by His Worship Mayor Gale, of Vancouver.

"Standing before this noble expression of peaceful friendship a feeling of pride must fill the hearts of this vast assemblage," he began. To Mr. Samuel Hill they were indebted for the inauguration of this monument which memorializes the hundred years' peace between the two countries. Those who had sacrificed their lives in the Great War had not made that sacrifice in vain; their service had given a lesson that war must cease. This arch was the first memorial to peace. After the hundred years had seen peace trembling in the balance between these two nations, when Great Britain and the United States had been moved to place their hand on the sword; but happily was it averted, first by Victoria, the Good," then by her son Edward, the Prince of Wales, in the events preceding and during the War of 1914 were recalled. But these were events by which their children must learn that "out of the travail of ancient nations peace is born." It was to be hoped that for centuries to come this portal might remain the portal of peace.

Flags Unfurled
The raising of the flags followed. Miss Dora Wriggworth, of New Westminster, dressed as "Miss Britannia," presented a big Union Jack to Mr. Frank Terrace, Mr. John B. Yeo, Mr. E. T. Mathies, and Mr. H. W. Hunter, and in a few seconds the em-

AMERICAN BODIES GO HOME FOR BURIAL

HULL, Sept. 6.—The bodies of American victims of the Zeebrugge raid were embalmed at Hull today on their way to the U.S. for burial.

Thousands of people lined the streets as the caskets, conveyed on aircraft service motors, passed.

It was stated that on the voyage to America on the British cruiser Dauntless, the body of Lieut.-Commander Emory Coll, of Marietta, Ohio, will be buried at sea in accordance with his expressed wish.

GRAND TRUNK AWARD IS EXPECTED SOON

OTTAWA, Sept. 6.—Indications point to an early award by the Grand Trunk board of arbitration, which is now holding its final meetings in Ottawa, and in well-informed circles it is stated that the report of the board is likely to be made at the end of the present week.

The members of the board of arbitration will hold their second meeting tomorrow. As they have had an opportunity of digesting the evidence taken at the public sittings of the board in Montreal and elsewhere during the summer, it is probable that definite conclusions will be arrived at with little delay.

LIFEBOAT CREW BACK ON VESSEL

Suffered Severely in Fifteen-Day Voyage—Had Sighted One Other Ship—In Gale for Three Days

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Eleven seamen of the steamship Canadian Importer who were picked up early Saturday morning 105 miles west of San Francisco by the tug Sea Lion were put aboard the crippled vessel Saturday night, according to wireless messages received here.

A sailing under sail at an ear's eye west of the coast which drew the attention of the Sea Lion. In two weeks the heroic sailors had rowed 610 miles, and several were stiff from physical strain. Their goal was San Francisco. Here they had been ordered by their skipper when the wireless aboard the Canadian Importer had failed to reach land, to row, without sleep, they took turns at the oars. When picked up by the Sea Lion, their food was about exhausted, and their limbs were swollen. Several were stiff from physical strain.

Vessel Passed By

Only one vessel was sighted during their fifteen-day voyage. On Aug. 22, at 2:30 in the morning, the ship was four miles distant. Those in the rowboat burned flares to attract attention, but the steamer passed on. It was in sight for one hour.

The men in the boat were fifteen days at sea, and passed through a storm from Aug. 25 to 28, according to a wireless message sent from the Sea Lion. The lifeboat crew was "weak and exhausted when the blow was over," the message said. "They are now in fair condition, but will need a few days' rest as a result of their strenuous experience."

The crew of the plucky crew is almost unique in the marine history of the Pacific. Nearly fifty men have passed since an episode of this kind has occurred. The last reported instance was that of a party of sailors from a disabled "windjammer," who rowed for weeks and finally reached the Hawaiian Islands. The story of their experiences was credited as Mark Twain's first big "scop." It was published in a San Francisco paper.

Lucky Speculation

The great tug Sea Lion passed out of the Golden Gate on Friday afternoon. She laid the first direct course for the spot where the Importer lay, and at 10:30 in the dark she picked up the missing lifeboat crew, now well Second Officer Laird, Third Officer Watt and their men stayed on the compass route that would have brought them into San Francisco Bay by Sunday at the latest.

The owners of the Sea Lion sent an offer to the Canadian Merchant Marine in Vancouver to bring the Importer home. The tug was sent to pick up the missing lifeboat crew, now well Second Officer Laird, Third Officer Watt and their men stayed on the compass route that would have brought them into San Francisco Bay by Sunday at the latest.

The membership report by W. E. Bentley, K.C., convenor of the convention, showed a gain of 6 per cent during the last year, the total membership being 1,919. Sir James Alkins and J. D. Falconer, K.C., both spoke on the work of the conference of commissioners on currency of legislation. Both emphasized the fact that there was no desire to take away from Quebec any of the privileges she at present enjoys.

At the conclusion of his address, Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, was unanimously elected an honorary member of the association.

Senator Heaton, Vice-President A. D. Maclester, joined at Fort William, Ontario, by President Coleman, and at Winnipeg by Sir Augustus Nanton and his brother, General Nanton.

POPLAR COUNCILLORS DISLIKE JAIL FARE

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The wives of councillors of the borough of Poplar, who have been imprisoned following their refusal to make the Metropolitan tax levies, are very loquacious with the press representatives concerning the sufferings of their husbands, an English newspaper. Women, three of these women, including the wife of the Mayor, visited the prison today to find to their surprise that their husbands had been removed to the infirmary.

The condition of the men was attributed to "violent change of diet."

The wife of the man interviewed said: "The sheriff officers come at 6:30 this morning, when my husband and myself were abed. My husband said to one of the officers: 'You are a biterly, old cook. Come back again when I have had breakfast.' So he breakfasted, repaired the children's boots and did other odd jobs, keeping the officers waiting about for porridge, cocoa and a few solids."

Three more councillors were arrested this morning.

RHODESIA HAS VARIOUS PLANS

Its People Considering Choice Between Independent Government, and Incorporation in Union of South Africa

LONDON, Sept. 6.—A Reuter dispatch from South Africa says the question of whether the existing system of government under the administration of the British South Africa Company shall be substituted by an independent responsible government or by incorporation in the Union of South Africa is at present exercising the minds of Rhodesians.

A delegation appointed by the Rhodesian Legislative Council is proceeding to London to confer with Winston Churchill, Secretary for the Colonies, regarding the question, but in accordance with the request of the colonial secretary, they have halted at Cape Town en route to discuss the matter of incorporation with Premier Smuts.

A Reuter cable from Cape Town says the delegation, under Premier Smuts, the man under whose Union Government proposed the incorporation of Rhodesia, but simultaneously stated that they were precluded from discussing the matter.

Premier Smuts, replying, welcomed the idea of the early admission of Rhodesia into the Union, as contemplated under the act constituting union, and said he was prepared to discuss the subject with duly qualified representatives as a preliminary to a referendum.

Premier Smuts added that the Union would promote agricultural development by acquiring the British South Africa Company's land, railway rights and other concessions and by the promotion of land settlement and railway extensions.

PRESIDENT GIVES $50,000 TO BAR

Sir James Aikins' Substantial Gift to Further Aims of Canadian Association—Meeting Opens at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Sept. 6.—Sir James Aikins, K.C., president of the Canadian Bar Association, at the opening session of the annual meeting here this morning presented the association with $50,000, the interest to be used toward the upbuilding of the organization, the furtherance of the cordial intercourse between members and the payment of expenses of annual meetings.

Sir James' gift, which came as a complete surprise to the members, was announced by George F. Henderson, K.C., Ottawa, who reported that the amount had been raised by the association with Sir James, who has spent many years and toured Canada from coast to coast in the interest of the association.

The opening session was featured by the introduction of distinguished lawyers from Great Britain, United States and Canada, including Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Prime Minister of Canada, Right Hon. Sir John Simon, Hon. H. C. G. Carson, Hon. Alfred D. Parker of New Brunswick, and Sir Malcolm Macnaughton, K.C. The delegates were welcomed by Mr. Meighen, after which Sir James Aikins delivered his presidential address.

Mr. Meighen, in his address of welcome, took the opportunity of congratulating Hon. William Howard Taft, Chief Justice of the United States, who was not present, on his elevation to that high office. Mr. Taft, he said, had made himself an appointment to this chief justiceship was popular throughout the Dominion. This popularity might mean very little to the president and government of the United States, Mr. Meighen continued, amid subdued laughter, but such was the case. The Premier also paid tributes to Sir John Simon and the other guests.

The Canadian Bar Association, the Premier continued, had accomplished much of real substantial value for Canada. The members had increased their knowledge of the world, but they had, even more, many of the facts of life. They must study more of the social sciences, but most important of all, they must study politics.

Sir James Aikins, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba and president of the Canadian Bar Association, in his presidential address referred to the incorporation of the association by Act of Parliament during last session. Its powers were ample, he said, its form of management and administration flexible. The president outlined the provisions of the act and placed several suggestions before the meeting for consideration.

POSTOFFICE ROBBERS ESCAPE FROM JAIL

TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 6.—Three men convicted of conspiracy in a million-dollar post office robbery here February 17, and awaiting trial for alleged robbery in the same case, escaped from the Lucas County jail yesterday.

The men are John Urbain, George Lewis, alias George Rogers, and C. S. Schulze. All are declared by post authorities to have been actual participants in the robbery.

The escape was effected by overpowering deputy sheriffs in charge of a jail full of prisoners.

MURDERS HIS FAMILY AND TAKES OWN LIFE

ORMSBY, Minn., Sept. 6.—A family of seven, the father, mother and five children—were found shot to death in their home here yesterday, apparently the victims of the father, Frank Klackow, a business man.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Klackow, the dead are Fred Klackow, 14, Myrtle, 14, Glen, 12, Oliver, 10, and Leander, 3.

All had been shot, as they lay in bed, and there were indications that an anaesthetic had been used before hand. The revolver was found under Klackow's left arm. Coronor Thompson, after an investigation, declared Klackow had killed his family and then himself.

Klackow was 49, and until six weeks ago was cashier of the Farmers State Bank of Ormsby.

He had refused to give the reason for his resignation.

They declared his accounts were satisfactory.

WILL MAINTAIN ORDER IN INDIA

Viceroy Makes Emphatic Address to Council on Subject—Dangerous Propaganda Responsible for Outbreaks

LONDON, Sept. 6.—A Reuter dispatch from Simla, India, dated September 5, reports that the Viceroy, Lord Reading, addressing a joint sitting of the Council of State and the Legislative Assembly, said the outcome of the prolonged negotiations with Afghanistan was still uncertain, but despite the outward complications and unexpected difficulties, he hoped that an abiding friendship would be concluded before long.

Reviewing the internal conditions of India, the Viceroy found much that was hopeful for the future, although, unhappily, there was still unrest in certain parts of the country, which demanded serious consideration. Lord Reading said that the Mahratta rebellion was now practically in hand. He attributed the Moplah outbreak to inflammatory and often deliberately false statements instilled in the minds of ignorant people. He acknowledged that the leader of the non-cooperative movement persistently preached non-violence, but the doctrine was repeatedly forgotten when passions were excited.

There were signs that the activity of one section of the movement was devoted to attempts, which happily were unsuccessful, to seduce soldiers and police from their allegiance. Lord Reading emphasized that the Government would enforce the law while carrying out the desire to ally legitimately discontent and remedy grievances.

More Trouble in Malabar

A Reuter dispatch from Madras, yesterday, reported that trouble was still brewing in Mahrarashtra, where hundreds of refugees were fleeing in the direction of Poona.

Reports of robbery and plundering were coming from Poona, whence the local rebels, who released some of the treasurers of Ponani and Chawga, were threatened and requesting urgent military aid.

A dispatch from Simla stated that with the approval of the Secretary of State for India it had been decided to introduce a foreign police department into the foreign police department of the Indian Government. Recruitment will be made from among the Indian members of the Civil Service, Indian commissioners of police, the Indian army and in cases of special merit, from officials of the Provincial Civil Service.

Dangerous Organization

A cable from Madras reports that in the Indian Legislative Assembly, Lord Willingdon declared that the religious fanaticism of some of the Moplahs was the instrument used by leaders of a widespread and dangerous organization who were only watching for an opportunity to attempt violently to overthrow the Government and the whole civil administration.

Although the policy of the Government had been as far as possible to avoid exciting public opinion, they were resolved to enforce observance of law and order and to punish the guilty.

Lord Willingdon repeated a warning that the Moplah propaganda and activities were creating a condition of chaos and disorder. He appealed to his members to exert their efforts to refute the misinterpretations of the actions and motives of the Government and to encourage the people to resist the intolerable terrorism which was the very antithesis of liberty.

IRISH SITUATION IS CONSIDERED

Mr. Lloyd George and His Colleagues Hold Conference at Inverness—Text of De Valera's Latest Note

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Prime Minister Lloyd George today held conversations with members of his cabinet and civil and military authorities in Ireland relative to the situation which has arisen over the latest note to the British Government from Eamon de Valera, the Irish republican leader.

Mr. Lloyd George and his colleagues met at Inverness, Scotland, where Mr. Lloyd George has been spending a brief vacation. The cabinet convenes tomorrow at Inverness.

Although London newspapers continued today to counsel patience and forbearance in dealing with the Irish question, there were certain indications that the Irish controversy had virtually reached a crisis and that tomorrow's meeting of the British ministry might prove historic. There were many who believed that Mr. de Valera and his colleagues at Dublin would be given a certain latitude in which they could either accept or reject the British Government's offer of dominion status for Ireland as a basis for a settlement of the ancient controversy.

DUBLIN, Sept. 6.—Eamon de Valera, the republican leader, declared in a statement to the press today that if England issued an ultimatum to the Sinn Fein in pretense would hide that it was an application of force which must mean war and not peace.

Was Valera's Reply

The reply of Eamon de Valera to Premier Lloyd George reads as follows:

"We, too, are convinced that essential progress would be made toward a basis upon which further negotiations can usefully proceed, and recognise the futility of a mere exchange of argumentative notes. I shall therefore refrain from commenting on the fallacious historical references in your last communication. The present is the reality with which we have to deal.

"The conditions of today are quite different from those of yesterday.

"First, the people of Ireland acknowledged no voluntary union with Great Britain, and claiming as their fundamental and natural right to choose freely for themselves the path they shall take to realize their national destiny, by an overwhelming majority decided for independence and to set up a republic, and more than once have confirmed their choice.

Denies Contract

"Second, Great Britain, on the other hand, acted as though Ireland were bound by a contract of union which forbids separation.

"The circumstances of the supposed contract are notorious. Yet, on the theory of its validity, the British Government and Parliament claimed to rule and legislate for Ireland, even to the point of partitioning Irish territory against the will of the Irish people and in killing it came into being every Irish clique who refused allegiance.

"The proposals after a long negotiation were submitted in the draft of July 20 are based fundamentally on the latter premises.

We rejected those proposals and our rejection is irrevocable. They are not an invitation to Ireland to enter into a free and willing partnership with the free nations of the British commonwealth.

"They are an invitation to Ireland to enter in the guise of, and under conditions which determine a status definitely inferior to that of these free states.

Monument to Century's Peace

THE PEACE PORTAL AT BLAINE
Arch of steel and concrete dedicated to day to commemorate hundred years of harmonious relations between Canada and the United States. The 8,000 bags of cement used in this massive structure were donated by Mr. R. H. Butchart, of the Tod Inlet Cement Company.

spoke as a veteran of the Great War, recalling that for Europe seen Arches of Triumph, commemorating success at arms, but never before had he seen an arch memorializing peace.

Premier Oliver

A message from Lieutenant-Governor Walter Nichol, regretting his inability to be present, was read by the chairman, who afterwards introduced Premier John Oliver.

"Although we are commemorating a hundred years' peace between Great Britain and the United States, we remember regretfully that we have not had a century free of war in both these countries," said the speaker. But there were words of peace, too. There was war, but there was also war. There was aggression that was wrong, and Great Britain was proud to have been associated so recently with the people of the United States in a war purely of a defence against a common foe. War was brought about by greed for wealth, greed of power. There had never been a war brought about by love of one's fellow man. To bring about world peace it would be necessary to eliminate greed from the heart of mankind, from civic governments, from national governments. Only when man loves his neighbour as himself would war be at an end.

Premier Meighen arranged that the flag on every customs house on the Canadian border be raised at the hour of the opening and that for the unfurling of the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack over the peace portal.

How Arco Made Started

The erection and opening of the Peace Memorial Arch followed the flag-raising at Blaine on July 4, 1915, when the Pacific Highway Association celebrated 100 years of peace between Great Britain and United States.

Today was chosen for the opening of the Peace Memorial Arch as it was on September 6, 1920, that the Mayflower sailed from Plymouth, England, with the Pilgrim Fathers. A plaque on the arch box containing the timber from the Mayflower was sent from Blaine to Premier Meighen, the people of Germany (including a plaque "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do"), to Albert of Belgium, to Premier Bland, and to the Japanese Consul at Washington.

The ceremonies concluded with the reading by Professor Edward Meany of a poem dedicated to the occasion, and with the pronouncing of the Benediction by Right Rev. A. U. de Paley, Roman Catholic Bishop of Victoria. There had still to be enclosed in the pillar of the arch the box containing the above telegrams, while a piece of the timber from the Mayflower taken from the old Quaker Meeting House at Jordans, England, and a piece of the SS. Beaver, the first steamship to ply the Pacific, were also permanently "placed" in the arch.

The ceremony occupying a very complete place on the stout oak chest standing against the west column of the arch throughout the ceremony.

Impressive Scene

The chairman read therefrom many messages of greeting, including one from President Harding, of the United States; from King Albert, of Belgium; from the Prince of Wales; from Marshal Joffre (who was in Paris on that anniversary, September 6, that the Battle of the Marne had been fought); from the Prime Minister of Belgium, and others. Mr. Hill was sent from Blaine to Premier Meighen a telegram from the people of Germany (including a plaque "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do") to Albert of Belgium, to Premier Bland, and to the Japanese Consul at Washington.

The ceremonies concluded with the reading by Professor Edward Meany of a poem dedicated to the occasion, and with the pronouncing of the Benediction by Right Rev. A. U. de Paley, Roman Catholic Bishop of Victoria. There had still to be enclosed in the pillar of the arch the box containing the above telegrams, while a piece of the timber from the Mayflower taken from the old Quaker Meeting House at Jordans, England, and a piece of the SS. Beaver, the first steamship to ply the Pacific, were also permanently "placed" in the arch.

As a result there stands today, nimbly the forty-ninth parallel of latitude, separating Canada from the republic to the south, an arch, impressive and dignified, bearing silent testimony to the fact that two nations for more than a century have lived in amity and goodwill. It abuts the main highway from the States of California, Oregon and Washington. It connects British Columbia and is situated between the American city of Blaine and the Canadian town of White Rock. The memorial cost approximately $100,000.

Three bands were in attendance on the day including the 72nd Seaforth. An effort has been made to have a detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police participate. Sixteen members of the Vancouver Police force turned out on hand as well as the local constabulary.

Alderman A. E. Todd was appointed by Mayor Porter to represent the city of Victoria at the celebration.

The programme was as follows:

Call to order by George A. Ellsworth, man and installation of the Hon. Samuel Hill as chairman of the occasion. Mr. Hill took the chair. Invocation by Rev. Robert E. Pratlow; Doxology. Ceremony of laying the corner stone by Chairman. Address by ex-Governor West, of Oregon; address by His Worship Mayor H. Gale, of Vancouver.

Presentation by Miss Margaret Tremenee of New Westminster, of Union Jack, presented by Victoria to Mr. Todd; John B. Ford and E. J. MacLean presentation by Miss Gretchen Snow, of Blaine, Washington, of Stars and Stripes to Samuel Ginzburg, H. W. White and F. R. McD. Russell. Raising of British National Anthem; Hatter and Wells Quartette. Raising of Stars and Stripes, Navy League Band, of Victoria, playing American National Anthem.

Address by Judge Thomas Burke representing the Bulgrave Institute and English Speaking Union; address by R. Rowe Holland, president of the International Peace Memorial Association, Victoria, B.C.

Address by Edward S. Meany, ex-Governor of Washington, University of Washington, Seattle, Washington; Benediction by Bishop A. U. dePencier, Westminister diocese.

Should be administered.

Mr. Charles Kretlow, W. D. Deve, wrote: "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for my little girl's life one time, as she was so bad I thought she was going to die. A friend advised me about 'Dr. Fowler's' so I got a bottle and it helped her right away."

Don't endanger your child's health by using a substitute, but get the genuine "Dr. Fowler's" price 5c a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. (Advt.)

Relieve Your Rheumatism For 25c.

NR does it by improving digestion, assimilation and elimination—the logical way.

NR Today—Relief or No Pay

There are three vital processes of the human existence—the digestion of food, the assimilation of nutriment from it and the elimination of waste.

If anything interferes with these processes, let them be interrupted or improperly carried on, and sickness or some kind follows.

Now, digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and the development of many serious ill.

Rheumatism—due to some interference with the process of elimination. It is a disease of the blood and causes the whole system to become weak.

Now, if you take NR Tablets, you will be relieved of your rheumatism.

And Nature's Remedy is not only safe, but it relieves pain. It improves digestion, tones the liver, stimulates kidney and bowel action, improves circulation, and removes all poisons from the body.

POLITICAL POSSIBILITIES

Nothing on or pertaining to this earth, nor even to the heavens above, according to the testimony of astronomers and other scientific authorities, is of a permanent character. Everything that "lives and moves and has its being," has its brief span of life and passes away. Even political parties, which a few years ago appeared to be endowed with a certain element of permanency, are in some danger of being engulfed in a new movement.

A few years ago it might have been said of almost every child brought into the world in Canada, that he was born either a little Conservative or a little Liberal. But "the old order is changing, giving place to the new." Young Canadians of both sexes, now that women have been entrusted with the sacred privilege of the franchise, may by inheritance be classed as National Liberal-Conservatives, Liberals, Progressives, Laborites, Socialists, with numerous other possibilities of classification, as a consequence of the partial disintegration of the old party organizations.

A few years ago the political parties in Canada were divided into two camps, Conservatives and Liberals. In a spirit of bitterness they sometimes were designated as Tories and Grits, and were not at all resentful of what was intended to be said upon their characteristics. Then came the Great War, and the explosion which shook the world and blew up dynasties. Likewise scattered the political factions. The old lines of division were obliterated, with results which will not be absolutely apparent until returns from the general elections now pending in the Dominion of Canada are announced.

The National Liberal-Conservative Party, of which Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, a young man who already has demonstrated that he possesses statesmanlike gifts of a very high order, has been selected as leader, is the logical successor of the Liberal-Conservative Party, organized, if not created, by Sir John A. Macdonald, affectionately known from one end of Canada to the other as "The Old Chieftain." With Cartier as his lieutenant in Quebec, he dominated the political situation in Canada, with the exception of one Parliamentary term, during the whole of his mature life.

When Sir John passed away, the political deluge which he is said to have predicted very soon swept over the country. There came the Laurier regime, which fell on an appeal to the country on the question of reciprocity with the United States.

The record of recent political events need not be reviewed. Mr. Meighen has succeeded Sir Robert Borden, and the agrarian movement has sprung into being in sufficient strength to shake the old parties to their foundations. In the far eastern provinces, where the children absorbed political opinions of the orthodox type with their mothers' milk, the farmers' movement does not seem to have made great headway. It will be a difficult matter for the voters of Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick to break away from their old associations.

In Quebec personality of leadership rather than political principles, as a rule, is the dominating factor in determining the decision of the electorate. There are no political Baus there at the present time, but the influence of Laurier still overshadows the land.

In Ontario the farmers, who formerly hung upon the words of Macdonald and Mowat, have been succeeded by sons who have become "class-conscious." The cities remain Conservative and professional in principle. The voters there assuredly will refuse to worship at the shrine of the agrarians have set up.

On the Prairies the tide of the farmers appears to be at the flood. There is little doubt regarding the result there.

In British Columbia neither the farmers nor the city dwellers will have sought to do with parties which appear to have no definite aim except to undermine the foundations of the fiscal institutions. Canadians have been industriously creating for forty years.

The pending conflict therefore will be one of the most interesting in the history of the country, and the issues are the most important the electorate ever has been confronted with.

THE BAND CONCERTS

Thousands of people have derived great pleasure, and doubtless a considerable amount of benefit, from attendance at the band concerts given in Beacon Hill Park during the season now drawing to a close. The music of the bands has been of a very high order indeed, probably the best that ever has been heard in the city under similar conditions. The quality of the selections has borne convincing testimony to the artistic abilities of the conductors and the capacity of the musicians they have collected in their several organizations. The City Council never set aside an appropriation that could more easily be justified than the comparatively small sum voted for the band concerts.

There is no more beauties upon the face of the earth during the summer season than Beacon Hill Park. Nature played her part in the creation of the playground and amusement centre, and art lent a hand in the completion of a scene of surpassing loveliness. When sweet music is provided in such a place on a sunny summer day, when healthy, well-dressed children in hundreds, apparently inspired by the glad sounds, deport themselves in perfect ecstasy upon the greenward (some of them performing acrobatic feats which are at once a revelation and a source of momentary terror to their mothers or other attendants), no more inspiring picture could be dreamt of. We are sorry that the concerts soon must have an end for this season, and believe that now is the time to consider measures for the perpetuation of the organizations which for all too brief a period have given unalloyed pleasure to such a large number of people.

There has been a great deal of discussion, with very small tangible result, of the question of the provision of attractions, Summer and Winter, for visitors to the city. There is no attraction, we believe, that possesses a greater charm for a vast majority of people than music. Furthermore, a study of history, sacred or secular, proves that music always has been recognized as having an educational effect, even a reclamatory effect upon those whose minds are inclined to the commission of evil deeds. David sang before Saul and soothed his demoniacal spirit. We all know what the great poet of all time said about the characteristics of men in whose souls the spirit of music had not been called into being. Music, if it be of the right character, arouses emotions, revives memories of "long, long ago," of old friends, of vanished forms, of "old, familiar faces," of home, of Motherland. Such manifestations cannot but be beneficial in their nature. They must make for good citizenship.

During the latter period of the war there was a lamentable lack of good band music in the City of Victoria. Whatever the cause of this state of affairs, it has been remedied and should not be permitted to recur. Whatever the City Council can do to maintain the several bands, or at least one good band, it should do, and private effort looking to the attainment of such an end should not be lacking.

The swallows some days ago packed up all their little belongings and hied themselves off to southern climes. They were the first of our Spring and Summer visitors to notice the decline of the sun in their diurnal courses and leave to greet the return of Spring in another land. These swift-flying little creatures enjoy a distinct advantage over all other migrants of their kind. They can pick up provender as they go along, and doubtless are in prime fettle to undertake new domestic duties as soon as they arrive in the South. Peter MacArthur, the Canadian humorist and philosopher, has been considering the swallow and its ways and speculating upon the possibility of mankind taking a lesson from its manners. Man has made unto himself wings and now can fly faster than anything wearing feathers. Therefore, Peter wonders how long it will be ere, yearning for perpetual Summer, great flights of airplanes may be discerned in the heavens bearing multitudes of human beings down to the regions where the birds pass the winters. The thing may come to pass in a modified sense long before the present generation is gathered to its fathers.

IN THE ALPS
(Matthew Arnold)
"Blow, ye winds! lift me with you!
I come to the wild.
Fold closely, O Nature!
Thus comes the sacred spirit of the great point now made clear, by the judgment published in Sunday's Colonist—and it is a point of immense importance—is this:

The irreducible minimum of ex-service for the public worship of God that can be granted by any statute purporting to grant such ex-service benefits, including, as the Privy Council has so pointedly defined, the place where the worshippers stand or kneel.

ALEX. MACDONALD,
Bishop of Victoria.
Victoria, B.C., Sept. 5, 1921.

Ex-Service Organization

Sir:—Your very points on amalgamation of ex-service organizations as expressed by you in Sunday's editorial are, I believe, in accord with the vast majority of not only returned men themselves, but also the views of those who have the interest and the welfare of the ex-service men at heart. Personally, I believe that the men that will now keep the organizations apart, if a proper opportunity were given to them to amalgamate, would be the mercenary or vainglorious aspirations of a few members of the various organizations.

It has been stated that it is necessary to wait until such time as to the amalgamation of all the ex-service organizations. Now, sir, there is one asset that we do not have to wait or daily about, and that is the voting power of the ex-service soldiers and sailors, their dependents and of those who take a keen interest in their welfare.

This asset alone should be sufficient to merge them together for the common good. This would be different if there were no really serious problems to handle, such as unemployment, the disabled, the dependents of those who are sleeping overseas, and the dependents of those who have found the struggle too much for them since coming home, and who are in unity are set.

And free and trusting nations,
In peace and love are met.

And may we hold the standards,

That grace the lofty arch.

With lasting goodwill enter,

And upward, onward march.

Judge Parker, of New York, Tells Canadian Bar That English-Speaking Nations Must Stand Together

OTTAWA, Sept. 6.—(By Canadian Press)—A plea to Canadians to all promote the spirit of friendship and good will between the people of Great Britain and the United States was made by Hon. Alton B. Parker, of New York, in an eloquent address delivered this afternoon before the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association.

Judge Parker, who has taken a prominent part in a number of movements for the furtherance of amicable relations between his own country and the British nation, "declared the war had demonstrated to all men that blindfolded by prejudice, 'there is no greater enemy to the wife for the two great English-speaking nations to stand together for the peace of the whole world if they can influence it, and if they cannot, then for their joint protection.'

"So far as the people of Canada and the United States are concerned," the speaker said, "we may not only believe in one another, but we are right good friends... And we evidence it by visiting each other's Bar Associations, national and state, and by exchange of visits between different associations and societies. And the American Federation of Labor membership, which consists of citizens of both countries, sometimes it holds its annual meetings in your country and at other times in ours."

"So we know each other, believe in each other, and like each other. But your Mother Country, and ours as well, is nearly three thousand miles away from our other. It is not as convenient to travel here and there as it is to travel even as you and we are. That is one reason why we need the help to bring us a little closer together and make us a little warmer toward each other. We have a mighty respect for each other, but we need better and stronger heart action."

Credit to Navy

Speaking of the United States participation in the war, which, he said, "came very much later than many of us," Judge Parker gave full credit to the British navy for making possible the sending of so many U.S. troops to Europe.

"Two millions of troops went over," he said, "but Great Britain furnished over sixty per cent of the boats to carry the troops and fifty per cent of the convoy. Nor could this remarkable achievement have been accomplished had the German fleet been out on the ocean instead of being bottled up as it was by the British fleet."

"Now, while the United States came late into the struggle," the speaker continued, "she drove with all her mighty power of men and money when she did, leaving no doubt in the minds of the people of the two nations that their respective peoples should amicably cultivate friendly and affectionate relations with each other. The fact is, that the people of each nation are worthy of the regard and affection of the other. That being so, eternally ought not to be difficult for one to think from the light of the further fact that the two nations speak the same language, enjoy the same literature, administer and develop the same common law, and constantly invoke the great principles of English liberty which cost the people of England a struggle lasting nearly 500 years. And, from these well-understood facts it follows as a matter of course that the idea of two or two persons must naturally tend in the same direction, and they do, as well we know."

Touching on the Irish situation and the effect of Sinn Fein propaganda in the United States, Judge Parker expressed the hope that a satisfactory settlement of the problem might soon be reached.

False History

"The Irish question, so long as it remains unsettled, will create some measure of irritation," he said. "It always has and it always will. We can hope and pray that Great Britain will succeed in her effort to get North and South Ireland to work together for the welfare of the world and the good of humanity."

Judge Parker declared many people in the United States have been deceived by school histories, "purporting to state the whole truth about the revolution when few, if any, do."

He pointed out that the histories in use in the United States schools do not tell the whole truth about the revolution, and that the reason is plain and simple: "The people and their struggles in the House of Parliament in behalf of the United States colonists, nor do they contain the important fact that those great leaders were supported by the great masses of the English people, who were strongly opposed to the autocracy of George III, and sympathized with the United Colonies."

"Since the United States won her liberty, she and Great Britain have had their differences," the speaker continued. "Each was at times right. Each was at times wrong. But for more than a century now, our respective nations have wisely and justly settled their disputes either through diplomatic channels or by arbitration."

"Now, we are very much as individuals do. Each strives to get at least all that is due. However, so far as Great Britain and the United States are concerned, for the last century, if neither side persuades the other of the justice of its claim, they promptly agree to arbitrate it. Certainly, nothing more should nations do with each other."

Over 1,850 pupils were registered at the High School yesterday. This is an increase of about 200 over last term or about double the increase expected by school authorities. At least five new divisions will be established, making the total number thirty-seven. Several new teachers will be appointed to the School Board tonight.

The affiliated college will not be re-opened until September 27. Attendance is estimated at about ninety, an increase of twenty over last term.

VETERANS VICTORIOUS
IN BEER SELLING CASE

Decision of Mr. Justice Murphy Finds Magistrate's Conviction of Local Unit and Fine of $1,000 Was Bad

The Honorable Mr. Justice Murphy yesterday handed down a written decision on the case stated by Magistrate Jay, who convicted and fined the Army and Navy Veterans Unit $1,000 for selling beer in their clubrooms. The case stated was by way of appeal from the magistrate's decision, and in effect the learned judge finds that the conviction was bad.

On the hearing in the Supreme Court after the point was taken that there could not be a sale of liquor by one club to another, the argument of counsel came up as to whether the Victoria Unit of the Army and Navy Veterans was "a person or corporation" within the meaning of the Government Liquor Act, and the learned judge has decided it is neither a person nor a corporation. In consequence the conviction cannot stand against the Unit in Victoria.

No Sale

The learned judge expresses no opinion on the question of liability of an officer or agent of such an institution who is engaged in the sale of liquor, but in the argument, the Victoria Unit of the Army and Navy Veterans was "a person or corporation" within the meaning of the Government Liquor Act, and the learned judge has decided it is neither a person nor a corporation. In consequence the conviction cannot stand against the Unit in Victoria.

The decision is one of great interest under the Liquor Act because it could appear as if incorporated clubs can reap no compensation from the Police Court.

The case was decided in the Police Court on August 10 and argued before Mr. Justice Murphy on August 17. Mr. H. Despard Twiss appeared for the Army and Navy Veterans, and Mr. E. C. Mayers appeared to support the conviction on behalf of the Crown.

The Decision

Mr. Justice Murphy's decision was as follows:

"...in opinion, the 'statute' in the Statute, Chap. 70, S. 7 and 8 George V, referred to as 'the statute,' the corporation thereby created under the name of 'The Army and Navy Veterans in Canada' is referred to as 'the Association,' and the body named in the case stated, 'The Army and Navy Veterans in Canada (Victoria Unit)' is referred to as 'the Victoria Unit.'

The legal point raised by question No. 1, ready to be decided by McDonald, J., and as I, Mr. Justice Murphy, would follow his decision, was not argued before me. I would answer it in the affirmative.

"As to question No. 2, 'Person' by the Interpretation Act, includes any body corporate or politic. The phrase 'or corporation' in this question is, therefore, I think, superfluous."

"Persons" in law may include both a natural person (a human being) and an artificial person (a corporation).

Pharmaceutical Society v. London & Provincial Supply Assn., 49 L.J., Q.B., 728.

As stated, by virtue of the Interpretation Act, it includes both the natural person and the artificial person.

"As to question No. 3, 'Person' by the Interpretation Act, includes any body corporate or politic. The phrase 'or corporation' in this question is, therefore, I think, superfluous."

"Persons" in law may include both a natural person (a human being) and an artificial person (a corporation).

As to question No. 4, 'Corporation'?

If it is, it must be by reason of something contained in the statute under the provisions whereof, according to the case stated. It was stated, however, that the learned judge finds that the Victoria Unit was created by the Association under powers conferred by the statute.

There is no power in the statute authorizing the Association to confer the status of a corporation on the Victoria Unit. It cannot, therefore, be a corporation by virtue of any act of the Association, nor can it be created by the Association.

Obviously, the Victoria Unit is not a natural person (a human being). Is it an artificial person (a corporation)?

If it is, it must be by reason of something contained in the statute under the provisions whereof, according to the case stated. It was stated, however, that the learned judge finds that the Victoria Unit was created by the Association under powers conferred by the statute.

In other words, 'the Victoria Unit' and 'the Association' are one and the same artificial person.

This, to my mind, is to assert the identity of cause and effect.

The statute did not create the Victoria Unit. It authorized the Association to create one corporation, viz., the Victoria Unit, if it could be created by the Association.

The Victoria Unit is not a natural person (a human being). Is it an artificial person (a corporation)?

If it is, it must be by reason of something contained in the statute.

It is, therefore, my opinion, that it can involve an absurdity.

It was endeavored, in argument, to maintain the identity of the Victoria Unit and the Association by the analogy of branches of a Canadian chartered bank.

But no one, I think, would argue that a Vancouver branch of, say, the Bank of Montreal is the corporation known as "the Bank of Montreal."

The fallacy involved, I think, arises from confusing status with agency. The question No. 2, of the statute, does not raise a status question.

It is, therefore, my opinion, that the Victoria Unit is not a corporation.

It is, therefore, my opinion, that the Victoria Unit is not a person within the meaning of the Government Liquor Act.

It is, therefore, my opinion, that the Victoria Unit is not a person within the meaning of the Government Liquor Act.

STRAWBERRY VALE INSTITUTE MEETS

Organization to Have Booth at Victoria Exhibition—To Sell Cook-book of Favorite Recipes

The Strawberry Vale Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the institute rooms, with a good attendance. Some old members who had been prevented from attending former meetings through sickness were gladly welcomed back again.

After the routine business was over, plans were made for various classes to be held during the next month. The site for the new hall, which will be used to Wilkinsons' Road Station as possible, is to be purchased immediately.

The institute has decided to hold a stall at the Provincial Exhibition on the 19th inst., where a display of the members' work in various branches will be shown. Many suggestions were made to make it a success, and a check-book of members' names, etc., recites, compiled by them, will be sold to aid the funds of the new hall.

A very interesting talk on bees and their habits was given by Mrs. Mary R. E. Pauline, a member of the institute, and afternoon tea having been served the meeting adjourned.

Margaret Robbie Robertson Chapter

The regular monthly meeting of the Margaret Robbie Robertson Chapter, D. E., will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Jones Building, and a large attendance of members is requested.

LECTURE COURSE AT JUBILEE COMMENCING

Nurses' Training Classes Will Begin September 15, With Leading Medical Men of City
as Lecturers

The Autumn lecture course for the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital
Nurses' Training School is to commence on Thursday, September 15, Miss Jessie Mackenzie, lady superintendent of the hospital, being in general charge.

The training school this year has forty-seven girls, twenty-seven of whom are registered from Victoria, while a probationers' class of ten is entering in a few days' time. One year of High School work or its equivalent is required of girls entering the training school, and many of them have a much better equipment than this. For instance, among the Victoria girls already in training sixteen are High School graduates, while numbers of students from outside points have a splendid educational foundation to help them through the work. Two of the more highly qualified local girls are Miss Jones, who,
in addition to her three years' High School work, has had a year at McGill, and has graduated from the Normal School; and Miss Fullerton, who adds two years' domestic science course to her three years at High School and one year Arts at McGill.

Other members of the training school at the Jubilee Hospital come from Nelson, Ladysmith, Vernon, Galiano Island, Armstrong, Salmon
Arm, Peachland, Trail, Fort William,
Ont., Wilmer, Kamloops, Sidney,
Union Bay, Vernon, Portage la Prairie,
Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina,
Dunca, and Okanagan points.

Lectures
Announcement of this year's course for the training school indicates the first meeting of the Victoria medical men, who are giving generously of their time and knowledge in lecturing to the classes. Both the lady superintendent and the Hospital Board are fully appreciative of the help that is being given from this quarter.

Following is a complete list of the lecturers and lecturers in connection

MEETING OF V.O.N.

HELD YESTERDAY

Resignation tendered of Miss McNair Leaving for Toronto—Appreciation of Gift from I.O.D.E.

Yesterday afternoon the regular monthly meeting of the Victorian branch of N.O.N. was held with an attendance of eleven members, and the president, Mrs. Goulding Wilson, sat in the chair. The monthly report showed that during July seventy-four cases had been nursed, three hundred and eighty-three visits had been paid and one hundred and fourteen Child Welfare visits had been made; while one hundred and forty cases had been nursed, five hundred and sixty-three visits paid, and one hundred and forty-five Child Welfare visits paid.

The recent baby show was discussed, and the success which attended the affair. Three hundred and twenty-five babies were entered for the competition and eleven doctors on the committee were ordered to see doctors, and it was felt by the committee that many babies had reaped benefits from this baby show, while

FRIENDLY HELP MEETING

Benevolent Association Reports Assistance to One Hundred Families Last Month

On account of the holiday, the Friendly Help monthly meeting was not well attended, only thirteen members being present. Nearly one hundred families were assisted during the month. In many of these, the head of the family had gone to the Prairies, so only temporary assistance was required.

This being the first meeting since the Arion Club concert was held, the association opened its meeting with its thanks to the Club and to the ladies who assisted in collecting, also to the public for responding so generously.

The amount given was $120.00.

The Rev. A. B. Owen reported that the Girls' Sewing Club had small children's garments to donate, and would be pleased to receive new materials to enable the girls to continue the good work, as the Friendly Help Association needs no garments very badly. Any more information regarding the same will be given by telephoning the room of the association.

This Letter Will Tell You How

Plunkett, Sask.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness. I had pains in the back and bearing-down pains in the abdomen and was in a general run-down condition. I could not sleep, rest or work and was quite unfit to do even slight household tasks. A friend told me about your Vegetable Compound and I in my turn truly recommend it, as my severe symptoms vanished and I am better in every way. I do my own work, look after my children and see to chickens, a cow and my garden. I also recommend it for young girls who are weak and run-down as my 16 year old daughter has taken it and is quite her own gay self again."—Mrs. FRED. WILEY, Plunkett, Sask.

This letter is but one of a great number received every year from women, young and old, and from almost every walk of life. These letters testify to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Wiley suffered mentally as well as physically, because her home and her children demanded the care and attention which she was unable to give because of her wretched health. Finally she tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and in this letter tells what it did for her.

The Vegetable Compound contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by any woman. Your livelihood depends on your health. So try

CHILDREN'S WARD IS NEWLY DECORATED

Daughters of Pity Entertained at Tea Last Week at Jubilee Hospital—Are Thanked for Generous Work forming for the special purpose of looking after the needs of the small patients in the Jubilee Hospital, a christened "Daughters of Pity." Speaking of her own long connection with the work, Mrs. Haswell said that of her many interests this had always stood first in her sympathies.

Medical Superintendent

Dr. Haswell, the new medical superintendent, and Mr. Carver, the managing secretary of the hospital, supported Mr. Parfitt in his remarks, and explained in some detail some of the numerous alterations made in the institution. From the windows the latter indicated the foundations of the new unit of the new hospital, a brief description of which he gave. It was not the intention to consider the building of a new children's ward, but the plans provided for this, and when the time came for it to be included in the new building the present children's ward would be taken over as a dining room.

Miss Sylvester, president of the Daughters of Pity, in a few words gracefully expressed the pleasure of the society in having completed the alterations, and thanked Miss Mackenzie for the services rendered.

Dr. Haswell, honorary president, and the Master, Mrs. Herbert, Colver, Servo, Croft, Sykes, Lovell, King, McIntyre, and Mrs. Davies Mackenzie and Macrae.

Before tea, everyone had a few minutes' leisure to admire the improvements to the ward, which had been entirely renovated and repainted, with new blinds at the windows, fresh paper on the walls, and bright decorations which is already providing vast entertainment to the few small patients who occupy the cots. There are new toys in the toy cupboard, an additional supply of tiny chairs and tables (all made by the returned soldier), for use by the little convalescents; while the pantries even have been equipped with new crockery and cutlery, which has been much needed of late.

The "At Home"

The "At Home" turned into an informal party after everyone had enjoyed the delicious tea provided by Miss Mackenzie. Mr. Parfitt, on behalf of the House Committee, thanked the Daughters of Pity for their generous care of the ward and the provision of so many comforts for the little sufferers. There was a special need at present time for extra help, as hospital tenders by this society and the Board would much appreciate the continuation of the work in the interests of the hospital. Referring to the interest which was being taken in hospital work at the present time in the Old Land, this speaker said that there was little doubt that the spirit of Victoria would catch the spirit of giving generously, once they realized the great importance to community of a well-equipped and up-to-date hospital. No matter what was done by governments and municipalities, hospital work would never be sufficiently supported unless it had the heart of the people.

Miss Mackenzie asked Mrs. Haswell, who had initiated the society in 1888, to give a short account of the earlier history and activities of the organization. Mrs. Haswell explained the origin of the title, "Daughters of Pity." The name had been chosen about the time when the Queen, then the Princess of Wales, was first known as "The Princess of Pity," because of the great interest and sympathy she had always shown for children in hospitals. So this society, as it was formed, had the name of "Daughters of Pity." The thirty-seventh session in attendance at the gathering met in the lodge rooms at Elks' headquarters, which were prettily decorated for the occasion. They were welcomed by Supreme Royal Lady, Mrs. Carlow, who then report outlining the progress made by the Order during the past year, a record of active growth and development, referred to the revision of the ritual and the inauguration of the work of organizing subordinate lodges, of which there were the following: Kamloops, Calgary, Prince Rupert, Moose Jaw, Regina and Port Coquitlam, all of which were stated to be in flourishing condition.

Reference was made to the increase in membership of three lodges as well as those of Victoria and Vancouver. The report set forth the satisfactory financial condition of the Order. In conclusion, the report expressed the appreciation of the Supreme Royal Lady for the loyalty of the members and the ready help and sympathy accorded her by officers and members.

At the afternoon session the election of officers resulted as follows: Supreme Royal Lady—Mrs. Redgrave, Calgary.

Supreme Associate Royal Lady—Mrs. Percy Raymond, Victoria.

Yesterdays' proceedings concluded last evening with Victoria Lodge No. 5, exemplifying full ritualistic work for the benefit of the delegates, an exercise which created keen interest and appreciation. Following this item an informal social time was enjoyed with music and community singing, the soloists being Mrs. M. Grassey Beck, Mrs. J. P. Vye and Miss Marie Saines. A feature of the evening was the presentation to retiring Royal Lady, Mrs. Carlow, of a magnificent basket of Ophelia roses and maidenhair fern tied with the purple and white ribbon of the Order, a presentation made by Mrs. Peden on behalf of the Victoria Lodge No. 5. Mrs. Carlow being given a bouquet by the delegates, many of whom voiced their appreciation of her earnest work done in behalf of the Order.

Today delegates will be entertained to motor drives about the city and other functions, and tonight the meeting will be brought to a close by a grand dance in the Alexander Club ballroom, for which every preparation has been made. Heaton's orchestra will render the latest dance music, and an excellent supper will be served. Tickets for the dance may be obtained from members of the Elks Club.

PATROL STEAMER CLINGS TO ROCKS

Givency, Ashore Since Saturday, Hangs at Steep Angle—Gale Would Be Disastrous to Vessel

Perched insecurely at an angle of six degrees or more on the rocks at Raven Cove, Chatfield Island, the Dominion Government patrol steamer Givency is in a precarious position, clinging to the rocky outcrop here, 200 fathoms from the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Alice.

The bow of the vessel is entirely out of water and the ship itself seems to be hanging from the rocks. She tilts upward so severely that she cannot rise and fall with the tide, but rests with stern completely submerged. So steep is the angle that it would be impossible for a man along the decks. At low tide the steamer is entirely out of the water for the greater part of her length. A blow coming in from Millbank Sound, to which she is exposed, would probably topple the vessel off her perch altogether and into deep water.

Crew Stay With Ship

The Givency went ashore on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock just north of Bella, about 250 miles north of Victoria. The crew of the steamer was going to anchor at the time of the wreck, and that the weather was foggy. The information is that she had struck was conveyed to the Princess Alice, which had just left the northern city for the south. The crew is unable to rise with the tide. It would seem that the vessel had simply filled as the waters came in.

The Leehro, it is understood, has been recalled, as her assistance is no longer thought necessary.

The Skookum, the Vancouver craft, is proceeding to the scene, and were making themselves as comfortable as the rain and cold would permit. Capt. Shuter, of the Princess Alice, offered to take them south, but the offer was refused by Capt. Laird, of the Givency, who preferred to watch his ship until the arrival of salvage steamers. Mrs. Laird, however, and two officials of the Dominion Fisheries Service who had been making the voyage on the government ship, were transferred to the Alice by small boat and taken to Vancouver.

Lake Princess May

The appearance of the Givency on her rocky perch is said to be strikingly similar to that of the former Canadian Pacific steamer Princess May when that ship ran ashore some years ago and rested in a famous spectacular position. The difference is that the Givency lies at a much greater angle than did the other vessel.

Two salvage crews have gone to the scene of the stranding. The Leehro was dispatched from here Monday by the Pacific Salvage Company, while the Skookum set out from Vancouver. The latter is a barque with a gear, and owned by the Vancouver Dredging & Salvage Company.

The Givency is a rawler type of vessel, one of three such brought here from Halifax during the war. The Thielippe and the Armentieres are sister ships. The Givency, although much larger in passenger accommodations, worked with Vancouver as her headquarters in the fisheries protection service, and was engaged chiefly in making the rounds of the coast canneries.

CAPTAIN DOLLAR TO RECEIVE THRONE

VANCOUVER, Sept. 6.—To carry by hand a sword for Captain Robert Dollar, head of the British Steamship Line, from the trunk of an exceptionally large Douglas fir, is the task which two of the employees of the company working in the logging camp have set themselves to do.

The slice of this huge tree, measuring seven feet across, will be hoisted aboard the ship, the Captain and sent to Japan as an exhibit, but from the other piece will be carved a solid chair of generous proportions.

The men estimate it will require more than a year to do the carving in their spare time.

C.G.S. GIVENCY

HULL OF GIVENCY IS NOT PUNCTURED

The Givency, although full of water, still has a sound hull, according to a wireless message from Capt. Moorhouse of the G. T. P. steamer Prince George, in the Canadian Government station at Gonzales Hill. The Prince George sailed in at the scene of the wreck on Monday at 12:30 p.m., the officers of the crippled ship coming out to meet her in a launch. The position of their vessel is such that it is impossible to tell at high tide the front of the hull is out of the water while the funnel is nearly submerged. They were sure, however, that the ship had not been "holed" through striking.

Resting as such a steep angle the Givency is unable to rise with the tide. It would seem that the vessel had simply filled as the waters came in.

The Leehro, it is understood, has been recalled, as her assistance is no longer thought necessary.

The Skookum, the Vancouver craft, is proceeding to the scene, and were making themselves as comfortable as the rain and cold would permit.

Capt. Shuter, of the Princess Alice, offered to take them south, but the offer was refused by Capt. Laird, of the Givency, who preferred to watch his ship until the arrival of salvage steamers. Two Men Event, seven entries. First prize, gold rings, won by Quinn and Lockhart Taylor, Cumberland; second, Simpson and Thorpe, Nanaimo.

One Man Event, eight entries. First prize, gold rings, won by Beveridge and Reid, Cumberland; second, Kay and Thorne, Nanaimo.

Ladies First Aid Event, three entries. First prize, $25, won by Mrs. Nellie, Mrs. G. Morris, Mrs. M. Scott, Mrs. Carmody, and Mrs. J. Scott; second prize, $15, won by Mrs. Douglas, captain, Miss McGarrie, Miss James, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Wittsworth; all teams came from Nanaimo.

Junior Cup, three entries. First prize, Nanaimo team; second prize, Victoria team.

Nearly all the competitions were very closely contested, the doctors in the First Aid events having to judge very closely to decide. Cumberland won the Mine Rescue easily. Their tactics were superior to those of their opponents, they making their main effort the recovery of the injured man, while other teams lost time in preliminary work.

Salmon Fishing and Plans for Future Industrial Development Engross Residents of Campbell River

CAMPBELL RIVER, B.C., Sept. 5.—As The Colonist man looked up from his little "two by four" on Thursday afternoon about 3 o'clock, there appeared in the doorway an enormous, rosy faced and most cheerful looking individual who proclaimed "Bob"! The Colonist man knew the necessity for the proclamation, for like George Ham, "Bob" is known to all and sundry from Cape Scott on the Pacific to Cape Canaveral.

The MacLean Publishing Company men had been working when they hooked up with "Bob," for although he can compete successfully with a barrel and a half of Ogilvy's best when weighing in, he has lots of "pep" and ginger to counteract all handicaps of this nature.

"Bob" arrived here in a natty little boat, which he had named the "Teeny Evans" and which cost him no money, but, the very last instant in fish stories which he will share later with George Ham, and which stories will be duly distributed throughout the Dominion in the coming Winter. Not being satisfied with the yarns that he has heard from "Bob" about the big types, "Bob" is after original stuff, and in spite of southerners tends to cruise along the shores of Valdez Island and pick a winner. He stated that on the way up from Vancouver he had experienced a very large bite, and with the aid of an Indian chief as pilot, intends to go over the same ground and finish the job.

It is to be hoped that Mr. D. Babcock, special representative of the MacLean Publishing Company, of Toronto, will be successful in his quest of big fish and big stories, for there are many fish in the world—just here in Campbell River for that particular kind of enterprise.

A BUSINESS NOTE

Mr. L. Goodacre, of Victoria, accompanied by his son, Mr. R. Goodacre, and Mr. O. W. Pearson, his son-in-law, of Vancouver, came up from the Queen City by way of the Island Highway on Wednesday last to enjoy a few days fishing. Mr. Goodacre, senior, has spent the last forty years in Victoria, coming to that favored city in 1886, and although of great age, can still show his boy a wrinkle or two when out on a fishing trip.

The Goodacre meat shop is known to people throughout the length and breadth of Vancouver Island, and has made logging and mining camps with the chanciest means for a long term of years. Mr. Pearson, Western manager of the Swift Co. now resident in Vancouver, was for several years manager for the same firm in the city of Victoria, and is known to thousands of its citizens. Mr. Pearson told The Colonist man that there was a distinct revival in business since the 1st of July, which has continued up to the present, creating a feeling of optimism throughout the business sections of Vancouver, and Victoria which was not experienced in the same degree as was forecasted earlier in the year.

There was great activity in building in Vancouver. Mr. Pearson said, and the rents were high and houses scarce for renting, which showed that there is not the scarcity of money that people imagined in those days of readjustment.

Mr. Farmer

Of course, you know that by proper drainage or irrigation you can double your crops.

BUT did you know that you can make your own ditch system at a merely nominal cost?

HERE is the answer to your crop-feeding problem.

The REVOLT Drain Digger

A very valuable British invention that has proved its thoroughness.

The Revolt makes a ditch 7 to 14 inches wide and 4 feet deep at the rate of from 50 to 70 yards an hour, depending upon the nature of the soil and whether drawn by horse, mule or tractor.

Low in cost—simple and rugged in construction—proof. Operated by two men (drawn by horses, or three by tractor).

In Great Britain, where it is revolutionizing agriculture and is a winning immovable first award, its cost of operation is 10c per acre—22 yards—and has paid for itself in five days. Get full information from the sole western agents:

DISPLAY HISTORIC RELICS IN VICTORIA

Of striking historic significance were the ceremonies carried out Monday at the Parliament Buildings entrance when relics were exhibited in connection with the Peace Portal dedication, at Blaine, were exhibited to the public.

Hundreds gathered at the spot to see wooden mementos of the Mayflower and the Beaver, the two famous vessels linked so inseparably with the birth of civilization and culture on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of this continent. The wood was recovered from a steel box, which was carried from the U. S. wharf to the Parliament Buildings, guarded by city police, the Veterans of France pipe band and the Boys' Naval Brigade.

The relics were formally received by Premier John Oliver, Mayor Porter and Ald. A. E. Todd, and were in charge of Mr. Samuel Hill and Mr. Frank Terrace, of Seattle, who has been custodian since their acquisition. Other notables who participated in the ceremony were: M. Vacher-Corbier, French consul at Seattle, and R. Auxilia de Turenne, Belgian consul at Seattle.

Several speeches were made, emphasizing the significance of the Peace Portal at Blaine, and the historic interest of the relics, which are to be incorporated into the Federal buildings.

Worries from the Federated Labor Party in Canada have now indicated that element proposes to enter candidates in at least seven out of the thirteen federal ridings in the Province. A meeting has been called for the 10th inst., when plans will be discussed.

ACTIVELY GUESSING ON FEDERAL CONTEST

Political Wiseacres Busy Figuring Possibilities in Dominion Fight—Announcement of Date Will Start Campaign

While the recent announcement by Premier Meighen of a federal election before the end of the present year has started local political discussion and there are many conjectures of the possible line-up of parties and who may be the selections made for candidates, there will be little definite action taken toward actively preparing for the contest until the date of the election is fixed and announced.

The political wiseacres are busy building possible slate but the real battle is nothing more than mere guesswork.

As already stated, Government supporters here are waiting until the return of Hon. Dr. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, and member for Victoria in the Federal Parliament, before any steps are taken toward organizing for the fight.

Local Liberals will commence to talk federal election preparations in earnest when the new Liberal rooms are opened about the 17th inst. Premier Oliver and members of his cabinet, together with other party stalwarts, will be on hand to take part in the ceremonies, and the call for a united front in the federal campaign will go forth. Mr. William H. Lyon, president of the local Liberal Association, is hoping that to him will fall the honor of heading the party forces against the Government, but other names are being mentioned as likely candidates at a Liberal convention for the honor of bearing the party standard, among them being Mr. Henry C. Hall, ex-M.P.P., Mr. B. C. Nicholas, Mr. George Bell and Dr. Lewis Hall.

Labor's Attitude

So far local labor has not taken any steps towards announcing its intention to enter the contest, but as Labor's aim at present is to enter the general election, it is likely that the new element will be found taking a share in the fight, and not behind a candidate of its own selection, at least in support of an independent candidate whether, as at the last general election in 1917, of the Federated Labor party, or of a Labor-Soldier standard-bearer.

Worries from the Federated Labor Party in Canada have now indicated that element proposes to enter candidates in at least seven out of the thirteen federal ridings in the Province. A meeting has been called for the 10th inst., when plans will be discussed.

HARDEST SEASON HERE

Main Points Requiring Attention in Truck Operation Outlined by Automobile Engineer

Summer days, the days when the hard working motor truck is called upon to render its very best service at a time when operating conditions are the least conducive, are here. Now is the time to examine the radiating system of the truck. Make what repairs are necessary and get it ready to function properly.

Overheating may increase operating expense and reduce efficiency. Overheating and other common hot-weather troubles usually are due to lack of forethought and mistakes that can be avoided easily. The main points which require attention are briefly outlined by a prominent automobile engineer.

Here Are Pointers

1. Do you understand the truck's cooling system thoroughly? If not, now is the time to go over it carefully and make all the repairs to it about it. See that the flow of water is not impeded by any sort of obstruction and that the overflow pipe is not bent below the level of the base of the radiator filler. Be sure that the overflow pipe is not clogged or flattened.

2. Is the radiator clean? The front of the radiator should be free from dirt, grease plates and slugs. Also the back of the radiator should be unobstructed so that nothing will impede the circulation of the air.

3. Are the hose connections watertight and is the hose in good condition? Be sure that the rubber has not been affected during the winter. Only the best quality rubber hose should be used, as the inside tubing of cheap hose is easily worn away and the rubber particles carried along with the water clog up the radiator.

ging brake will cause overheating in hot weather that might not occur in cool weather.

STUNTS EXPENSIVE

Most Motorists Have Some Fault in Driving—A Few of Many "Fool Tricks"

"Every driver has his pet 'trick,' even though he may pride himself on his careful driving," says a local automobile expert.

"For instance, it is safe to say that a goodly percentage of automobile owners start their cars with the emergency brake not completely released. This, of course, is a bad practice, since it cuts down the motor's power and causes excessive wear of the brake linings.

at that hour there was no danger of disorder.

Accordingly, immense crowds, mostly women, gathered inside and outside the hall. The conciliations were headed by Susan Lawrence and Mrs. Edgar Lansbury, who delivered farewell speeches, both in the hall and from the balcony, to the jubilant crowds of demonstrators and sympathizers. So great was the gathering, with various local bands, when the sheriff's car left with the prisoners for Brixton, that only the slowest pace was possible until the district had been left behind. All the windows of the houses along the

4. Does the fan turn freely and is the belt tension right? The fan should be clean and its bearings should be well greased. A good test is to turn the fan by hand with the engine shut off. If it is possible to slip the belt easily, but not possible to spin the fan, the belt is right.

5. Is the carburetor choke in proper repair so that it opens and closes correctly? Then the seasonal shutter on the heat-air tube is the float level correct? If too high, slight flooding will cause an over-rich mixture.

6. Does the ignition system furnish a spark of sufficient strength? A weak spark due to excessive lubrication of the magneto, dirty breaker or distributor or weak magnets will have an effect similar to late spark timing and overheating will result.

7. Are the valve tappets properly adjusted? They should have from .004 to .010 inch clearance, which may be gauged by about the thickness of an ordinary postcard.

8. Are the cylinders free from carbon? If not, remove it.

9. Is the oil in the crankcase clean? Gasoline, dirt or other foreign substances will impair the quality of the oil in the crankcase.

"Did you ever think you had stalled your motor and pressed the starter button when the engine was still going but its sound was drowned by traffic noise? Chances are that you have done this once, yet it is a bad thing to do, and doing it too often will in time make it necessary to have the starter drive or flywheel gear replaced.

"A better plan before depressing the starter button in such a case is to touch the accelerator and listen to see if the engine responds.

"Everyone has at some time or other tried to shift gears without the clutch, but a few drivers seem to have a habit of trying to do this impossible 'stunt.' Persistence in doing this chips off the teeth and makes replacement of the gears necessary.
